

Conclusion

NCCNHR strives to protect the rights of long-term care residents nationwide and to support citizen advocacy groups throughout the country in their effort to do the same. There is no single way to advocate on behalf of long-term care residents; rather, it is the combined effort of NCCNHR, CAGs, and advocates everywhere that will lead to meaningful improvements in long-term care. It is our sincere hope that the information provided here will provide CAGs with the tools and inspiration to continue their tireless advocacy on behalf of long term care residents. NCCNHR is grateful for the support of The Commonwealth Fund in developing this resource.

Together we can make a difference!